International Competitions of Ideas

FRAMEWORK

Imagine something gigantic.
Imagine something immeasurable.
Imagine what can be bigger than the planet Earth.
Imagine things.
Let's imagine the volume of what can not be accounted for.
Imagine structures. Imagine the speed.
Imagine the complexity.
Let us imagine the variability.
Imagine the variety.
Imagine a dimension of information so big that wanting to account for it, is simply impossible.
Imagine what is going on around us.
Imagine what we can see and not see.
Imagine information.
Can we imagine the non-visible?
Let's imagine Big Data.

International Competitions of Ideas

bigData

We woke up and for some reason, the media, digital and online disappeared. It simply became non-existent. Is this our future?
And in that case what can we do about it?
How to solve and rescue the infinite and precious information that made us arrive here?
Where are the manuals, the technology and the wisdom?
Where is the knowledge being stored?
Where can we have access to the backup of our Collective Imaginary?
Where did the bigData go?
